For the last four decades, Selkirk Tangiers Heli Skiing has been guiding and skiing amongst the Selkirk and Monashee Mountains. In 1978, Peter Schlunegger introduced helicopter skiing to the Revelstoke area and founded Selkirk Tangiers. Drawn by the area’s deep snow accumulation and iconic terrain, Peter quickly realized the potential for Revelstoke to become a heli skiing mecca.

The early heydays were a time of discovery: charting new terrain, managing risk and navigating helicopters in the high alpine. Each year marked new runs, new friends and countless stories. Over time, the operation grew. The company added more guides, more helicopters and in 1999, it moved into its current location at the Coast Hillcrest Hotel.

Fast forward to the present, and business is thriving. The company has grown and matured to be recognized as one of the premier heli ski destinations in the world. Peter has since retired, but his passion for the mountains remains. Our staff are fueled by this passion. A passion for snow, mountains and a desire to deliver an unforgettable experience. We invite you to join us this winter as we commemorate 40 years of heli skiing in Revelstoke.

Celebrating 40 years
The Founding Father

Peter Schlunegger

Schlunegger comes from a long line of guides: his father, grandfather and great-grandfather were all mountain guides from Switzerland. Peter’s great-grandfather, Karl, guided for the Canadian Pacific Railway out of Rogers Pass in 1899.

Shortly after coming to Canada in his early twenties, Peter was offered a guiding position with Canadian Mountain Holidays. This was the first commercial heli skiing operation in the world and is located in the Purcell Mountains of BC. Over the following ten years Peter had the opportunity to explore and guide in the Purcell, Cariboo and Monashee Mountain Ranges.

In February of 1978, Peter and nine guests conducted the first exploratory heli skiing trip in the Revelstoke area. Based out of Albert Canyon and sleeping in motorhomes, the group of heli skiers descended upon the slopes above the Tangiers River in the Selkirk Mountain Range – hence the origin of the company’s name Selkirk Tangiers.

The following winter, base operations were established in Revelstoke. His partner, Penny Pasnak, managed the bookings and organized the details while Peter focused on delivering the best heli skiing experience for their guests. Slowly and steadily, the business grew.

In the early stages, Peter didn’t just help grow STHS, he helped grow the heli skiing industry as a whole. He was an examiner for the Association of Canadian Mountain Guides (ACMG) for many years and co-founded the BC Heli Skiing and Snowcat Operators Association, which later evolved into Heli-Cat Canada. Peter also helped create the current land use tenure system.

When Revelstoke Mountain Resort acquired Selkirk Tangiers Heli Skiing in 2007, Schlunegger decided it was time to hang up his red guiding jacket and enjoy retirement with Penny.

“Heli skiing is a life changing experience for most people. It is an incredible privilege to have shared that with so many over the years.”

Guiding Us Forward

Eriks Suchovs, General Manager/Lead Guide

I consider myself a very lucky person to be able to do what I do. Ever since my first time sliding down a Toronto neighbourhood ravine with my dad, I wanted to be a skier. I distinctly remember standing on the back of my dad’s skis, arms locked around his knees, looking forward in utter awe.

Growing up, I knew skiing would eventually become a big part of my life. In 1980, I moved to Revelstoke to pursue a career in the mountains and never looked back.

In 1983, I started my ACMG certification and joined Peter Schlunegger’s team of guides at Selkirk Tangiers Heli Skiing. Over the past 34 years, I’ve been fortunate enough to ski the world’s best terrain here at home in the Selkirk Mountains. And while the skiing is amazing, the best part of my job is working with clients, employees and contractors alike. From the guides to the agents, administrators, retail staff, ski techs, and everyone in between, it’s what my team brings to the table that gets me excited to work here at STHS.

There is much to look forward to with the future of Selkirk Tangiers Heli Skiing: welcoming back return guests, entertaining new clients and hitting some bucket list goals for a number of newbies. Personally, I am excited to continue working with our talented team and watching them grow in the years to come.

During my tenure at STHS, I’ve witnessed the evolution of a small operation with only a handful of guides into what we are today: a heli skiing world leader in safety, precision and efficiency. We have flown thousands of guests around the Columbia Valley and matured into a slick outfit with an unwavering commitment to offer the world’s best skiing.

“Heli skiing is a life changing experience for most people. It is an incredible privilege to have shared that with so many over the years.”

I’ve been skiing with STHS for the last 25 years. Before that, we were coming to Revelstoke to go skiing with Clyde & Keith at Cat Powder Skiing on Mt. Mackenzie – where Revelstoke Mountain Resort is now. At the time, our group was mostly on tele-gear and the skis were pretty skinny. When we expressed an interest in going heli skiing, Clyde told us about Peter and STHS. So in 1992, we signed up for a day of heli. I distinctly remember that first day, it was very special – we skied Park Glacier, one of my favourite runs of all time. It is safe to say, we left that snow cat in the dust – we were hooked on heli.

Since that first day, we just kept coming back for more days each time. It has been amazing to see the progression of heli skiing, particularly since those early days when we first started locking down our heels. What hasn’t changed are some of my favourite runs, which include Goldmine, Idaho, Right Guard and West Twin. Honestly though, I love any run we get to ski with Lead Guide André Normandeau!

We have now been heli skiing with Selkirk Tangiers for over 20 years. In that time a lot has changed, but the skiing has always been great, especially when the snow is deep and the sun is out. We've been lucky to get a few of those weeks on the glaciers.

What makes STHS special is the variety of terrain. The reality is that conditions change, but we have learned to trust that STHS is going to make the most of what Mother Nature puts in front of us.

One trip stands out from a couple years back. Upon arrival, we noticed that there hadn’t been any new snow for the previous three weeks. Depressing to say the least. However, our guide Alex Nadeau came to our table at breakfast the first day with a big smile on his face. We quickly learned that he was eager to go out with us because the snow conditions were so stable. It was a week full of steep, deep skiing. We went to places we had never been before (and Alex either). It was steep like hell everywhere. What a week!

A Tribute to Erik Giese
2 million+ vertical metres since 1979

Erik Giese began skiing with STHS at the age of 39 and logged 400 days plus with our company. Over the years, he brought many friends from all over North America, including his favourite ski partner, his daughter Noel. Noel began skiing with STHS in 1983 and dutifully followed next to her father’s tracks for 28 years. According to Noel, these heli ski trips were some of the most memorable experiences in Erik’s life. The magical conditions, outstanding terrain, exceptional guides and excellent après kept the Giese groups coming back year after year.

Erik was also an amazing athlete. During his youth, he was a competitive skier and won several ski racing and jumping championships. When Erik skied with STHS, he loved skiing in gullies and taking to the air. On the run called April, when conditions were just right, Erik would jump off the snow covered pillows that cascade down the cliff like a puffy waterfall.

He also loved doing laps on the runs named Chivas and Goldmine.

One time, during a six-day trip, Erik injured his ankle on day one which was strange because you could count the number of times he fell on one hand. However, he did not let an injury stop him. For the next five days, Erik skied with one ski. What was even more amazing was that it looked like he was skiing on two skis because he was such a strong and graceful skier. On Erik’s last heli trip in 2011, the conditions were exceptionally stable and he was able to ski some of the steepest runs of his life. It was a great last trip at the age of 71.

Many years before, Peter Schlunegger had a run named Noel in honour of Erik. Now, the run serves as a tribute to his life and lasting memory of how heli skiing was such a beloved part of Erik’s life.

- Up to 11 guests per group in a Bell 206 helicopter
- 3 groups per helicopter

Len Martin
Pilot
29 years with STHS

“Every year, I would go see the ski movie premieres in Calgary. Being a skier and a helicopter pilot, I always looked forward to the heli ski part. In 1989, Into the Snow Zone came out, and there was a helicopter in the parking lot of the movie theatre for promotional purposes. I started chatting with one of the pilots on site, Jan Elbe. He flew for Selkirk Tangiers and invited me to visit that winter - The rest is history!

My first season, I flew the Bell 205 and still do today. The engine is definitely more powerful now than it was when I started. Back in the day, we had no repeater and no satellite. The ski basket was also smaller. We were a bit more on our own out there. I think the GPS is probably the best new tool that we use. But to be honest, I don’t really need one when I’m flying at STHS. I know the tenure like the back of my hand!”
Small Groups

Incredible things come in small packages.

With our Small Group packages, less truly is more: more intimate, more flexible and more likely to raise the bar to lofty new heights when it comes to planning the ultimate ski vacation.

With a maximum of five guests per group, you will move at your own pace while getting to know your fellow guests on a more personal level. Book a seat on your own or with friends and family, and let us take care of the rest. Like our Classic option, the Small Group package is all-inclusive with an agenda that boasts gourmet meals and après ski, beautiful accommodations at the Hillcrest Hotel and endless powder days exploring the spectacular Selkirk and Monashee Mountains.

All Small Group packages include:

- Set amount of vertical metres over 3-7 heli ski days
- Certified ACMG/IFMGA Ski Guide
- Equipment rentals
- All meals and accommodations
- Up to 4 guests per group in an A-Star helicopter or 5 guests per group in a Bell 407 helicopter (depending on availability)
- 3 groups per helicopter

In the mid-1980s, I won a cross country ski race in Golden, BC, and the first prize was a day of heli skiing with STHS. I remember when I went, it was a perfect day in April: bluebird sky, deep powder and the people in the group were really fun. I was hooked, that day, I decided that I wanted to be a ski guide.

In my time here, I think the biggest change came with the invention of fat skis. I got my first pair in the mid ’90s — the Völkl Explosiv. This was a big game changer in the industry. Suddenly, skiing was easier; you could go faster in different kinds of terrain.

Day Heli
You’ve waited long enough.

A taste. A teaser. A try. This is where it all begins. Our single day packages are ideal for first-time heli skiers or as part of a longer multi-element itinerary.

The 3 Run Powder Excursion is all about the experience, offering an amazing introduction to heli skiing with a full day spent getting to know the stunning Selkirk and Monashee Mountains we call home. The more advanced 5 Run Powder Adventure is a bigger day out, perfect for powder hungry skiers and riders looking to move at a faster pace through our incredible and varied tenure. Both packages include a comprehensive safety orientation prior to skiing or snowboarding.

Complement your heli ski adventure with a day at Revelstoke Mountain Resort, enjoying the Most Vertical in North America. Go ahead, check this one off your bucket list!

All Day Heli packages include:
- 3 or 5 runs
- Certified ACMG/IFMGA Ski Guides (2 guides per group)
- Equipment rentals
- Breakfast buffet, gourmet mountain lunch and après
- Up to 10 guests per group in a Bell 206 helicopter
- 3 groups per helicopter
2 Day Expedition
One day of heli skiing is never enough.

1. Wake up to a full breakfast buffet. 2. Shred deep powder lines throughout the Selkirk and Monashee Mountains. 3. Après ski by a log fire as the sun sets. 4. Repeat.

Our 2 Day Expedition option is quickly becoming one of our most popular packages, and it’s easy to see why: 10 runs over 2 ski days means more time on snow and greater flexibility when it comes to terrain selection and weather.

Confident skiers and riders can set a faster pace and get the chance to tackle more challenging lines. All guests have the freedom to explore their own unique accommodation and dining options around Revelstoke while still enjoying a taste of the multi-day experience.

All 2 Day Expedition packages include:
- 10 runs over two heli ski days
- Certified ACMG/IFMGA Ski Guides (2 guides per group)
- Equipment rentals
- Breakfast buffet, gourmet mountain lunch and après
- Up to 10 guests per group in a Bell 205 helicopter
- 3 groups per helicopter

500,000 Acres of Exclusive Terrain

Impressive size, unbelievable features, endless run options... and it’s all yours!

Our tenure in the Selkirk and Monashee mountain ranges is huge; so big and with so many features that we continue to discover new runs every winter. We offer exclusive access to arguably the best terrain in the world. Wide-open glaciers, alpine meadows and massive, old-growth forests are just some of the majestic terrain options you will discover while heli-skiing with Selkirk Tangiers.
In The Best Hands

The safety of our guests, staff and pilots is our top priority.

Selkirk Tangiers is committed to a culture of safety and awareness. Our guides and pilots are trained and certified to the highest levels in their professions. Through proper safety training and by providing the necessary backcountry gear, guests will be given a thorough understanding of the mountain environment they will be accessing. Videos on avalanche, mountain and helicopter safety can be found at selkirk-tangiers.com.

A key strength to our operation is our guiding team whose priority is your safety. Our professional and skilled guides are dedicated to delivering the best possible skiing every day. Much goes into planning a day that is appropriate for the conditions. At our daily guides’ meeting, 250 years of combined experience is often brought to the table. Detailed, site-specific weather forecasting products, industry-wide avalanche forecasting tools, up to the minute satellite and radar imagery as well as neighbouring field reports enable us to make the best possible decisions about where to take you skiing. After the ski day, our evening meeting consolidates all observations and data from the field to help us prepare for the following day.

There is a misconception that heli skiing is extreme or restricted to experts only. In fact, we have programs that cater to intermediate skiers and riders in addition to our more advanced options. Of course, we recommend that guests have a certain level of comfort and experience in powder prior to embarking on a heli ski adventure, and as such, we encourage those who are unsure to enroll in Inside Tracks at Revelstoke Mountain Resort. This program provides a sneak peek at the type of terrain you can anticipate on your day of heli skiing and helps you refresh basic skills.

Recommended Packages

- 1 Day Adventure, 2 Day Expedition, 3-5 Day Classic, Day Star, Dream Star
- 1 Day Adventure, 2 Day Expedition, 5-7 Day Classic, Day Star, Dream Star, Small Group
- Day Star, Dream Star, Small Group

Intermediate

“I can ski/board any intermediate open run with ease and enjoy soft snow conditions. I’m slower off groomed trails if conditions aren’t perfect, but I’m still able to make it to the bottom comfortably and in control. I enjoy a full day exploring all types of terrain, but multiple days might be challenging.”

Advanced

“I can ski/board advanced terrain & trees comfortably and in control at higher speeds. I enjoy riding in powder and have experience. I’m physically fit enough for multiple full days on the mountain.”

“I normally ski/board advanced terrain and I’m always looking for deeper snow. I don’t need to be the fastest and air time isn’t required for my day to be a success, but I enjoy small drops. I’m fit enough for full days and I try to get as many as I can.”

“I can ski/board anything, fast, from first chair until last call. If there’s powder on the mountain, I’ll find it and ride it with ease. Deep snow, tree runs, airs and steep terrain are what I’m looking for.”
